EMPIRE MODES.

The Women Still in a State of Uncertainty Regarding Them. Dorothy Maddox, in Philadelphia Inquirer.

What are we to think of the empire gown? One authority on feminine costum-ing does not hesitate to affirm that up to the present time no model, among the many employed, has received unqualified admiration and acceptance. Another equally reliable modiste is enthusiastic over the quaintly artistic effects obtainable by tying up a woman's tigure under her arms. Says she, "The empire has no rival in showing off the figure to advantage, where there is any figure to show." I like it. Perhaps the reason for this lies in my good luck which has brought across my pathway some exceedingly clever models. After all a woman must suit her gown to her personality, if she would have it a success. She's got to attend to details, and the woman who doesn't propose to do this had better not attempt the empire. Head and feet should be en suite. The hair is dressed with strict reference to the classical, and bound with a fillet of gold or one of the coronets affected by the Empress Josephine. The feet should be daintily shod in nigh-heeled empire slippers, laced over the instep with gold or silver cords or til only the very narrow point of the elaborate foot-covering shows, and she is all One odd little waist whim which has come in with the empire is shown in a model where the lining of the bodice is fitted to perfection, and over this falls a drape through which can plainly be seen the shimmer of silk or the gleam of satin. This gauzy front, which floats and sways with every motion of the figure, is a sight by no means beautiful unless the bust is ribbons. The woman with large joints and a flat instep is denied the luxury of a beautiful shoe, or, at least, the luxury of dis-playing it, but she can drop her empire un-girlish, the hips well carved down and the waist shaped like an hour-glass. Crossed effects upon the upper part of the corsage; side falls of crepe and tulle; sleeves that stand out until they look as it stuffed with swan's down, as in the days of our great-grandmothers; simple bands, downy and soft, that fasten over the dainty white shoulders with never a thing save this as a sleeve: girdles of ribbons and girdles of gold, the network as fine as meshes of rare old lace; these and a dozen more are coaxed into use. One and all they help the empire on to fame and fortune, and I should not be surprised if we women soon smiled with hearty approbation upon the individual who insists that we shall dress as if we were overgrewn babies.

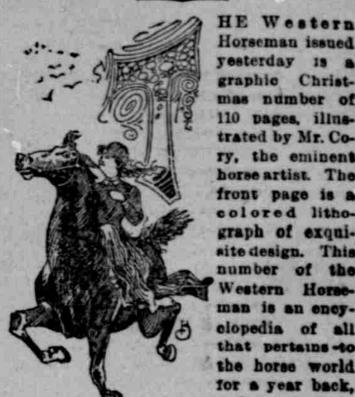

Ought to Be Ashamed of Himself. Civil-Service Chronicle. President Patton, of Princeton College, is reported to have recently said: "I am interested in philosophy and theology, and these are the only things I want to be known in. I vote for neither party." It is a stigma upon President Patton, an American citizen, to show such callousness to his duty. It ought to be a stigma for the trustees of an American college, in which American boys are to pass four years, to retain as president such a man; and it ought to be a discredit for any parent to permit his son to be under the influence of one so wanting in the appreciation of the elements that go to form character. Of what ancient stuff are his theology and philosophy made? Those genial cynics who claim that it is necessary to buy and sell votes, steal and lie in politics, are really less dangerous than this college president who is so admirably suited to pursue theology and philosophy in a Russian college.

Western Horseman's Christmas Number-Notes and Gossip.

yesterday is a graphic Christmas number of 110 pages, illustrated by Mr. Cory, the eminent horse artist. The front page is a colored lithograph of exquisite design. This number of the Western Horseman is an encyclopedia of all that pertains -to the horse world for a year back. and contains a great deal of valuable statistical informa-

Many good horses and some that were great were lost during this year. Some were regarded as money-makers and others as great types of the noble animal. Better than some men, most of them had done the best they could. Over the grave of old Copenhagen, the Duke of Wellington's war horse, was inscribed:

COPENHAGEN, The Charger Ridden by The Entire Day at the Battle of Waterloo. BORN 1808. DIED 1836.
God's humble instrument, though meaner clay, Should share the honors of the glorious day.

Among many well-known animals that died during the year are Emma Temple, 2:21, a California trotter; Torrington, burned near St. Louis; Dick Edwards, once famous as first to trot a mile close to 2:40; Lyle Wilkes, at Lexington; Prince Allen, valued at $20,000, burned at Trenton, N. J.; Mambrino Kate; Rarus, 2:144, sold for $36,-000; Ariel, bred at Palo Alto; Glendennis, Harry Noble, 2:174, valued at $30,000; Challenge, 2:064, half brother to Jay-Eye-See: Star Maid, 2:19, and several others.

Stamboul, 2:0712, the great, has been transferred from the golden slope to the Atlantic coast, and, though so advoitly advertised and judiciously worked to attain the stallion record, was sold for $41,000, or $9,000 less than paid by Mr. Hobert for the same horse when there were more seconds in his record and fewer performers in his list of produce. But then a very rich man desired him, and now he is thrown upon the market. He is richly bred and elegantly made, but the phenomenal performers of the last few years have, as a rule, been from other horses. Still he is a good purchase, and at ten years, with a list of ten, his outlook is flattering, and in the broader and more convenient field of operations offered to his progeny in the East, we can reasonably expect that Stamboul, the best son of Sultan, chief son of The Moor, will advance to higher honor and prove a profitable investment to his new owner.

Predictions upon the outlook for 1893 will be complicated by the world's fair, which interferes with the plans of all who cater for the amusement of the public. Societies which combine fairs and racing will experience this more than straight racing associations, probably. Men will like races just as much in 1893 as ever, and that is one taste the world's fair cannot provide for beyond the customary meetings held in Chicago. So many horses have gained most phenomenal reputation in the last season that they will be strong attractions next summer, with increased drawing power. With the evident desire on the part of race managers to give good and honest exhibitions and the superior classes of races, we can look for a paying support by the public, but it will not be a good year to increase expenses.

Mr. Brandon, of Anderson, Ind., has a good pacing string for next season. It is reported that the Pocahontas Zeig-ler will go in the 2:15 list next year. George Gould, a son of Jay Gould, only has a record of 2:25—that is as a pacer. Hiland L. could only trot to a 2:30 record. but 2:20 at the pace is credited to him. Hibibi ought to have made a better mark than he did, wearing such a horrible name. The get of Commander, by Blue Bull, brought the top at the Chicago sale last Venture will make a short season in the stud, then a record in 2:12. He has gone that Does Chris Smith, 2:14%, get his pace from his dam, old Lucy? The Guy Wilkeses almost always trot. Geo. E. Lloyd, owner of Harry Jones and Dolly Brown, who has been dangerously ill, is getting better. The Axtell that paces is not the one that has a trotting record of 2:12. The pacer has 2:29 to his credit. Curt Gosnell sold his green pacing gelding in Chicago for $300. This fellow will make his purchaser money.

Coastman, 2:161/2, will appear again next year, when he will take a shy at the five-year-old record of Storm, 2:081/2. The Arrowoods are sure trotters. We think we can name six sure 2:30 performers for 1893 at two and three years old.

Majolica, 2:15, was distanced in the seventh heat of a race at Liverpool, Eng., recently. He won the first heat in 2:37%. Jessie Turner, dam of Houri, 2:17, is in foal to Black Wilkes, 2:28. She is by Mambrino Patchen and is only thirteen years

Sontag Mohawk, the dam of seven in the 2:30 list, one of the best matrons at the Palo Alto farm, is in foal to Pale Alto. A Minnesota paper says that Senator Oswald, of that State, has refused an offer of $20,000 for the gelding Greenlest. 2:10%. There is a demand for American trotters all over the world, and foreign buyers are looking at Boston horses, says the Spirit of the Hub. Greenlander, 2:154, is said to have trotted a mile in 2:10, at Evansville, Ind., recently. He is owned by Mr. O'Dell, of that city. Kremlin failed to beat his record of 2:07% at Montgomery, Ala., although he made two efforts. His time in these trials was 2:091/2, 2:09. The young stallion Allan B., 2:2014, has the reputation of being the best grandson of Blue Bull out this season. He is very fast. If the Peru, Ind., stallion, Prince Nutwood, had been in more than two or three races this year his mark would have been away below 22% Some one has asked, says Allen Lowe, in the Boston Globe, how it is that the pacer has lately had so many fast representatives. It is simply that the fastest barness gait is only getting a fair share of recognition, and nowadays the breeders are allowing most of their pacers to go at their natural gait, instead of loading them down to make trotters. John Rinehart, Shelbyville, Ind., has a good horse in Rinehart, 2:24%, by Monroe S., son of Jim Monroe, dam by Jim Wilson, He started three times the past season and won two first moneys. Mr. Rinehart also owns Rowdy Boy, by Monroe S., dam by Legal Tender. He is very fast at the pace. He is sire of a colt four months old that went an eighth in twenty seconds, at the Shelbyville, Ind., fair; his dam is by Dan-iel Boone; second dam full sister to Daisy C., by Jim Wilson,
